MEXICAN BANDITS CAUSE TROUBLE

American Cavalry Dispatched to San Benito to Repel Invaders Who Had Set Fires to Railroad Trestles

(Special to The Herald)
Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 2.—American cavalry dashed away from here before daybreak today in response to a call for help from a telegraph operator at San Benito, a station 22 miles northwest of Brownsville.
In his message the operator said that Mexican bandits had cut all of the telephone wires on both sides of the town and had fired several railroad trestles. As the bandits approached San Benito they fired upon two automobiles, but the occupants escaped uninjured. According to the motorists the bandits numbered at least 25 men fully armed.

WIFE ACCUSED OF HUSBAND'S DEATH

Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Mohr Arrested By Providence Police Charged With Hiring Men to Slay Dr. Franklin Mohr

(Special to The Herald)

Providence, R. I., Sept. 2.—Following the finding of confessions of three men that they took part in the killing of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, the wealthy physician, and the wounding of his nurse, Miss Emily Burger, the physician's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Mohr, was arrested today and is held by the police.

Signed confessions were made by George W. Healis, the doctor's chauffeur, Victor C. Brown, the doctor's discharged chauffeur, and Henry Spellman, Brown's half brother. Brown's confession stated that he was hired by Mrs. Mohr to kill the doctor and that she was to pay him $2,000. Healis' confession that Mrs. Mohr had told him she would give him $2,000. Spellman confessed that he fired three shots at Miss Burger and that Brown fired the shots which proved fatal to the physician.

Mrs. Mohr when confronted by the three colored men and heard the reading of their confession declared to the police, "It isn't so. You know you (pointing to Brown) came up to my house and said that you were going to get square with the doctor because he did not pay you what he owed you. I told you not to be foolish."

The police say that Mrs. Mohr admits having sent a threatening letter to Miss Burger but thus far has made no admission that she plotted the death of her husband.

All the prisoners were arraigned before Justice Hannum at Warren. They pleaded not guilty and the three men were held without bail for further hearing on Sept. 16.

SUNSET LEAGUE PLAYERS GUESTS AT BANQUET

Merry Time and Good Dinner Enjoyed by Baseball Stars Last Evening--Suggestions Made for Betterment of League for 1916.

The first annual banquet of the Sunset League was held in Odd Fellows Hall last evening between 75 and 80 ball players and guests being present. The occasion was one of the brightest and most cheerful gatherings that the players had attended for a long time. After the serving of the dinner, speeches were in order and many a laugh was caused by the remarks made by the boys. There was plenty of the right kind of food, nicely cooked and tastefully served ready for the party and the festivities opened at 7:00 o'clock. Mr. W. Hartford, president of the league, presided at the "Home Plate" supported by the other members of the board of directors. Mr. Parker and Mr. Bates, Mayor Harry H. Weston and City Clerk Frederick D. Drew were also present as representatives of the city and the council.

Mr. Hartford opened the speaking by introducing the Mayor. In his remarks Mr. Hartford addressed the players as members of the most popular organization in the city, one of the best institutions which were doing a great work in setting an example to the younger element in the city and one which probably gave more real enjoyment to the citizens than any other one thing. He complimented them on the successful season which has just been completed, and asked for suggestions for the making of the coming seasons even more successful. In speaking of the banquet Mr. Hartford said that he hoped that it would be an annual affair and that the directors and their successors would try to make it so.

The Mayor was well received and his remarks listened to and appreciated. He spoke highly of the members of the league and the feeling of good fellowship which was being helped along by the work of the boys.

D. J. Barthwick was next introduced by Mr. Hartford and he said that the city was highly indebted to the organization. Mr. Bates told of the good effect that the League was having on the younger element in the field of sports, pointing out that the small boy was learning his lesson in self control from watching the league players in action, realizing that there must be some one act as an umpire in the games which they played and that they must abide by his rulings.

A high tribute to the careful and conscientious work performed by Mr. Parker was paid by Mr. Hartford. Mr. Parker said that he was glad of his connection with the league, and proud of his chances for getting closer to the boys who composed it. He said that he hoped that the league would not die but would continue to be a credit to the city. He then made a statement as to the finances, which were quite satisfactory, but felt that the receipts should be higher than they were at present.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Pat Moran, leader of the "cracking under the strait" Phillies, has been accused of perpetrating a "one man team" on the poor, defenseless National league, the same being Grover Cleveland Alexander. While we agree that the marvelous Alexander is more or less a team in himself, still he is not the whole show. Several other members of Moran's squad are responsible, in a way, for the standing of the Phillies, notably Gabby, Cravath, Luden and last, but not least, George B. Whitted. George was given to Moran at the expiration of last season, along with a youngster, Dugy by name, and a bundle of coin by George Stallings, and all George did was to strengthen the "braves" outfield, which he did, but he did not add as much batting strength to the "braves" attack as it was expected he would. Whitted, on the contrary, has improved wonderfully both in the field and at the bat, and he now looks as good that Stallings would gladly give four players for his return. It might be added that the chances of Moran giving up Whitted are very, very remote.

present. In speaking of the play ground Mr. Parker said that the boys could make it the best in New England if they continued as they had been doing. Bill (Pop) Woods, George McPherson, Jerry Lynes, Jack O'Brien, Heinle Cragen, Alvin Robottom, Jack Mates, Ira Newick and Bill Brackett all addressed the members of the league, speaking of their successes and failures, all making valuable suggestions for the betterment of the league and the conditions of the play grounds and diamond.

Fred Bunker and George Woods were called upon for some remarks but each declared that no matter what they said they would be declared wrong so they refused to say anything. These statements being made in a good natured manner and the spirit of fun.

Jack Mates told of the forming of the Sunset League several years ago, Bill Woods and Jerry Lynes being present with others at the York Beach Railroad station at the time he suggested it. Bill Brackett offered several fine suggestions for the better financing of the games and the bettering of the conditions of the bleachers and diamond. One of his suggestions was the placing of some imported loam on the top of the grounds as it was impossible to clear them of stones as it is now.

This question was discussed back and forth and several very pronouncing statements were made that will bear fruit for the 1916 season.

At the close of the discussion Mr. Parker announced that the managers of the Portsmouth and the Olympia theatres had opened their doors to the boys for the evening and many of them accepted the invitations.

The catering for the banquet was done by members of the Odd Ladies. They were given a hearty vote of thanks for the able way in which they had looked after the boys. The ladies of the organization who served the dinner were, Mrs. Lena M. Morrill, Mrs. Stella Barrett, Mrs. Annie L. Mason, Mrs. Sophia Trafton, Mrs. Lizette Adams, Mrs. Olive S. Holmes, Mrs. Nellie Tilton, Mrs. Currie Adams and Mrs. Martha Hill.

An orchestra played a good concert program during the serving of the dinner, the numbers being light and catchy and were well appreciated by the boys. "The First Annual In-Door Sunset League Baseball Game" will be remembered by the boys and their guests for a long time.

Copenhagen, Sept. 2.—A Danish merchant who just returned from Russia writes to the National Tidende: "The hatred of the Russians against Germany knows no bounds. Throughout the empire the use of the German language has been made a crime punishable with three years' imprisonment or a fine of 3,000 roubles, or both. All German books in the public libraries have been destroyed. During my sojourn in Moscow I was arrested because I spoke Danish with an old friend. YORK BEACH vs. P. A. C. TONIGHT

This afternoon at 6:30 o'clock the P. A. C. team, after the Sunset League banquet of last evening, are going to take another wallop at the York Beach nine, and the opinion in the city among those who know baseball and who saw the last game are willing to bet a new outfit shirt to a last year's promise that has been broken that the visitors will be taken into camp with all the ease in the world. No more free runs in the first inning, and the P. A. C. boys are determined to belt some York Beach pitcher off the mound if hard trying can do it. Here is a bunch of ball players who went through the season of the Sunset League and won their last game for first place when a tie or a loss would have handed them as the runners up. And they allowed a team from Maine to come up here and clean up. But they think that that game Monday was a pretty easy victory, 2 to 1 without getting one hit off Bill Leary, and they are out for another victory this afternoon—but on the other side of the page.

This is still pretty fine baseball weather and the boys are going to play some game. Better get out there early this afternoon and be in at the 10th hole. There is still a chance that the visitors may take the second game, but if they do they will have to play better baseball than they know about.

Tobacco Should be Smoked Up As Soon as it's Cut Up

Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

RUSSIAN DANGER POINT IS RIGA

Resistance is Solid but Must be Made Stronger—Hurl Back Enemy in South.

London, Sept. 1.—Russian resistance to the Teutonic advance is developing strength on the southern wing, according to the latest report from Petrograd, which is recording a success gained within a day or two in Galicia declares that three thousand prisoners, thirty cannon and thirty-four machine guns were captured. Riga, however, is almost isolated, and unless the Russians soon throw heavy forces against von Hindenburg's exposed flank this port must fall into the hands of the invaders. Although this northerly attack seems to have been checked for the moment, the Russians have been unable to develop a counter offensive in that region comparable with their activities in East Galicia, where, on the River Strypa, they have not only turned at bay, but have inflicted large losses on their opponents.

For a period of five or six days on the western front a rain of shells from French guns has been poured on the German trenches. The object of this unusual artillery attack has not been disclosed but it is not believed here that so much precious ammunition would be used merely to damage the German works without some sort of concerted effort to occupy the shattered trenches.

Strong Russian Counter

Petrograd, Sept. 1.—Successful Russian counter attacks on a wide front in the Strypa River district, eastern Galicia, are reported in a Russian official statement given out here last night. The Russians claim to have captured 3000 prisoners, thirty cannon and thirty-four machine guns. The communication follows:

"In the Riga region Monday night the enemy assumed the offensive from the railway to Gross Elkan and Nemni northward. This offensive has been held up on the River Misa. Northwest of Friedland the enemy's attempt to cross the Dvina was repulsed Sunday, and the Germans who crossed to the right bank were thrown back. At Friedland, under cover of artillery fire of hurricane intensity, there were further German attacks Sunday and Monday nights on the Russian bridgehead. All these attacks were repulsed with heavy enemy losses.

"On the right bank of the Vilia we assumed an offensive which developed successfully on the thirteenth. Between the Vilia and the Nemen we continued to hold the enemy's offensive. On the upper Vilia we again repulsed enemy attacks in the regions of Lipka and Sidra in the course of Sunday and Monday. There has been no essential change on the front between Grodno and the Gorodok district. On Monday in the Gorodok region we repulsed two enemy attacks.

"In the region of Wladimir-Wolynsky we took about 200 prisoners, repelling enemy attacks Sunday east of Selnuchy.

"In Galicia, after a prolonged fall, Austro-German troops on Sunday made a series of energetic attacks along our whole front. This offensive was preceded by violent light and heavy artillery fire. The attacks were particularly fierce north of Zloczow. In the region of Pomorzany and Zhorow, as well as on the front of the River Strypa, between the railways leading towards Tarnopol and Czortkow, the enemy made eight separate attacks, which all were repulsed, with such heavy losses to the enemy that in some districts he was compelled to make precipitate retreat. Thanks to our counter-attacks we had great success on the extended front, capturing 30 guns, 24 machine guns and about 3000 prisoners, half of whom were German.

Stiff Resistance by Russia

"The Russian rear guards are making a desperate resistance to the efforts of the forces of Prince Leopold of Bavaria and Field Marshal von Hindenburg's southern wing to cut off the Russian troops still clinging to Wilna and Grodno," says the correspondent of the London Times. "The nature of the terrain facilitates the Russian task of regrouping in new positions in the rear."

"The new movement of General von Mackensen's army against the trunk line between Kowel and Kiev, which might isolate the Russian troops in Galicia, is regarded seriously in Petrograd, but the broken and woody nature of the ground is expected to retard the advance in this direction.

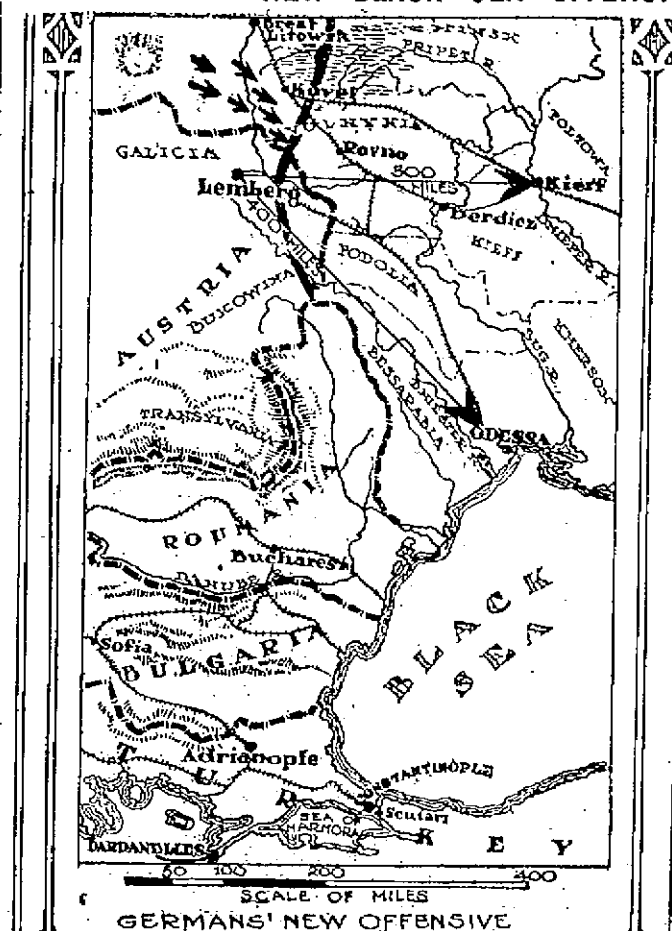

More Gains on Isonzo

Rome, Sept. 1.—The official communication from the Italian general headquarters dated Aug. 31 and made public here last night says:

"On the plateau northwest of Arstery our troops attacked a strong position on Monte Maronia, north of Monte Mingolere and drove out the enemy. The enemy then concentrated an intense fire from pieces of every calibre on our new position, which nevertheless we retained and strengthened, and in which we are now solidly established.

"Around Plava, on the middle Isonzo front, groups of our crack riflemen boldly pushed forward against the ene-

GERMANS NOW SAID TO PLAN NEW BLACK SEA OFFENSIVE

Dispatches from Berlin for some time past have indicated that the next move of the Austrian and German armies in the east, after clearing Poland and establishing a strong defensive line as far as the Baltic, would be to turn south and drive through the southern provinces of Russia to the Black sea. Reports have come from Berlin that the Russians already were preparing to evacuate these provinces. The resumption of the offensive on the line of the Zlota Lipa and the Dniester, after a lull of more than a month indicates that this plan has become a serious possibility. It is considered to be at least as practicable as an attempt to capture Petrograd, and of much greater strategic and political value. It would not only nullify to a great extent the capture of Constantinople by the allies, or, in case the Dardanelles should hold out until Odessa is reached, would open a channel for relief and re-enforcement and particularly ammunition, which the Turks urgently need. It would also probably definitely settle the possibility of Roumania entering the war on the side of the allies by cutting her off from Russia. Incidentally, there have been reports of a massing of Austrian troops opposite the Serbian frontier, on the Danube, at the western extreme of Roumania's boundaries. The distance to be covered by such an offensive would be fully twice as great as that covered in the great Austro-German drive east from Cracow, which in May and June cleared Galicia of the Russians, but the territory to be traversed is, but for one range of mountains, not particularly difficult. The heavy line shows the present approximate battle front.

my's lines and succeeded in silencing the few machine guns and trench mortars with which our adversary for the past few days had been hampering our approach to his works.

"An incessant movement of troop trains at the Gorizia station is reported.

"On the Carso front during the day of yesterday a number of small actions occurred. The results were in our favor. "In the Selbust zone our troops have occupied more trenches, in which we picked up arms and ammunition abandoned by the enemy. Some progress also has been made east of Cavo di Selz.

"The enemy's artillery has resumed the bombardment of houses at Monfalcone."

Artillery Actions Only.

Paris, Sept. 1.—The French War Office this afternoon gave out a statement on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"Several artillery actions were reported in the course of the night around Neuville St. Vaast, in the region of Roye, and in that Oulverie, on the Somme.

"In the Argonne, there was violent cannonading yesterday to the north of Fontaine Hayette and on the Chevauchee Heights. During the night it was calm.

"In the Vosges, after a bombardment with asphyxiating gas bombs, the enemy last evening launched against our trenches at Lingre and Schatzmann a violent attack. We maintained our positions. At midnight a new German attack was repulsed."

"The official communication issued by the War Office last night says:

"There have been further lively artillery engagements in Belgium on the front of Steenstraete, and Het Sas and in Artois between Neuville and Arras. The enemy has fired a few shells of large size on the town of Arras.

"The cannonade also has been rather violent in southern Woevre, in the forest of Apremont and to the north of Thirey."

Serbs Yield to Bulgaria

London, Sept. 1.—The Serbian Government has informed Greece that it intends to comply with the requests of the Quadruple Entente concerning the concessions demanded by Bulgaria, says an Athens despatch.

"The Balkan situation is discussed at length in despatches to the morning papers from Bucharest, Sofia and Athens. Although the correspondence generally is optimistic, emphasis is placed on the difficulties which the diplomats of the Entente Powers are encountering in their endeavors to adjust the conflicting demands and disarm the mutual suspicions of the Balkan nations.

As to the counter activity of the Turco-Teutonic Alliance, the Post's Sofia correspondent reports that the Turks are preparing for the evacuation of territory ceded to Bulgaria by demolishing forts on the right bank of the Maritza, and by pulling down barracks at Karagatch. The actual Bulgarian occupation of ceded territory, through which the Dedagatch railway runs," the correspondent says, "will follow soon, it is stated."

COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT

The September meeting of the City Council will be held this evening at City Hall at eight o'clock.

BOSTON LETTER

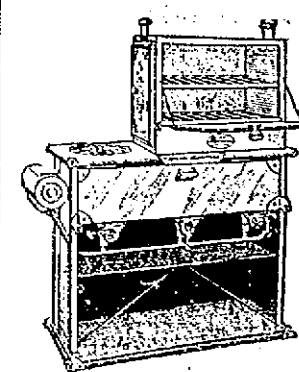

Boston, Sept. 2.—Forestry experts of the nation who are in session at Franconia Notch, N. H., at the three days' conference under the auspices of the Society for the protection of New Hampshire Forests, are in favor of public forests and reservations for the use of campers. They feel that the people should get into the forests and feel that there are free and open to all sorts of uses. Delegations are present at the conference from the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the American Forestry Association and the Western New England Chamber of Commerce, all of whom are co-operating in an extensive study of the conservation of the forests in New England. An object of the conference is further purchase of land in Northern New England. The directors of the American Forestry Association meets today. Tomorrow there will be an excursion over the sky line trail of the Appalachian Mountain Club, including the summits of Mount Lafayette, Lincoln, Liberty, to the Flume, about ten miles, to observe the lumbering operations in Pemigewasset watershed during the last fifteen years. In the afternoon a party will go to the New Hampshire Society's reservation in the Lost River region. One of the most important subjects under consideration at the conference is that of the taxation of wood lots. Professor of Forestry J. H. Foster of New Hampshire state college, who several years ago made a careful study of wood lot taxation in New Hampshire for the United States Forestry Service, made a study of large number of the same lots last year with the cooperation of the State Tax Commissioner.

The hymn, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," has been barred from the Unitarian hymnal, following the effort of President Emeritus Elliot of Harvard. The hymn, even before the war, was never popular with many Unitarian ministers, but since the war it has gone down in the estimation of Boston Unitarians. The Episcopals who number it 607 in their hymn book retain it, at least for the present. The hymn under the ban by Unitarians begins:

The Son of God goes forth to war,
A kingly crown to gain,
His blood-stained banner streams afar,
Who follows in his train?

Boston, September 2.—New Englanders who are familiar with Boston of 50 years ago will look with interest upon the demolition of the Hotel Pelham on the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets. The hotel has long been a familiar sight to the eyes of Bostonians. Erected in 1867 by the late Dr. John H. Dix, it was the first family hotel modeled on the French flat or apartment house plan in America. The building has another distinction which attracted even the eyes of the world, as it was the first structure of its size in the world, so far as known, to be moved on its foundation, when 12 years later in 1879 by an agreement with the City of Boston and Dr. Dix, the building, together with its valued sidewalk was moved on the line of Boylston street, thirteen feet, ten inches westward. The hotel had been placed on steel rollers one and one-

REAR ADMIRAL POND NEW COMMANDANT

Rear Admiral Charles Fremont Pond has been appointed Commandant of the Portsmouth Navy Yard. Word was received in this city last evening that the successor of Commander John V. Klemm, acting commandant of the yard since September 1 had been named in Washington by the navy department. Mr. Klemm has been filling the position since Captain Snowden was placed in command of the U. S. S. Wyoming, flagship, of the Atlantic fleet, in September.

Rear Admiral Pond comes here from the Pacific station. He is now in command of the Pacific Reserve fleet, with headquarters on the U. S. S. South Dakota, at Mare Island, Cal. This fleet consists of seven ships, the flag ship, the U. S. S. Albany, U. S. S. Charleston, U. S. S. Milwaukee, U. S. S. Pittsburgh, U. S. S. San Diego and the U. S. S. West Virginia.

Prior to his present command of the fleet Rear Admiral Pond was Station Commandant of the twelfth naval district and had served as president of the Navy Examining board and the Navy Retiring Board at Mare Island.

Rear Admiral Pond was born Oct. 26, 1855 and appointed to the Naval Academy June 13, 1872 from Connecticut. He will be retired in three years when he reaches the age limit of 62 and until that time will probably remain here at Portsmouth as Commandant of the yard.

MARY FULLER LIKES BOSTON.

In a communication addressed to J. A. Eslow, manager of the New England Universal Film Exchange, Mary Fuller, a famous Universal star, openly declares that Boston movie lovers show a deeper and more wholesome appreciation of the work performed in the silent drama than those of any other city in the world. "I have had the pleasure of visiting many of the big cities in this country, experiencing the sensation of seeing myself perform upon the screen and I can truthfully state that Bostonians rank foremost in their quick appreciation and hearty applause of a daring feat or an exceptional piece of acting."

Profit-Sharing with Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914, we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car. We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-1915 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date. We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars delivered during August, September and October, 1915.

Motor Trucks for Farmers.

Agricultural colleges and farm improvement leagues are doing much for the advancement of farmers and farming, but there still remains a great deal to be done to bring agriculture up to the proper level all along the line. That much has been done already in this direction by the automobile and that much more will be done in the future by the extension of the use of this wonderful machine is beyond all question.

This paper has had something to say on this subject in the past, and it finds that it is by no means alone in the conviction that the automobile is to play a most important part on the farm in the years to come. It is safe to say that the days for drawing produce to market with horses are practically numbered. Better roads are coming fast in most parts of the country in response to a demand created by the increasing use of the automobile, and where good roads are available the hauling of produce from the farms to the markets with auto trucks is a simple, speedy and inexpensive proceeding. The farmers are rapidly learning this and the use of trucks is increasing in proportion.

And the beauty of it is that there are many sections where it is not necessary that every farmer have a machine. In places where garden truck, fruits, etc., are grown one large truck is sufficient to meet the demands of numerous growers in the way of transportation and will answer their purpose almost as well as would a railroad. With an auto truck on a good road it makes little difference whether a farm is five or fifteen miles from market, and this is where the value of the auto is to make itself felt in the strongest way. The day when a productive farm is of small value because of its remoteness from the markets is fast nearing its end. The people everywhere are awake to the necessity of good roads, and their construction means the solution of one of the most important of all farm problems. This was true to a large extent before the coming of the automobile, and it is now truer than ever before.

With marketing made easy farmers in remote regions will be stimulated to renewed effort and the effects will be felt by all classes of the community. If there are any who feel that this is a dream it is time for them to wake up. The auto is here, better roads are coming and as a result farming in this country is about to enter a new and more prosperous era.

A university professor recently declared in a public address that country boys make the best men. That is true of some country boys and it is also true of some city boys. There are many conditions that enter into the making of the right kind of a man, and so long as so many successful men and so many failures are produced in both country and city it will be a waste of time to quibble over the most advantageous place of birth and bringing up.

There seems to be a very general agreement that the business outlook for this country is bright. Thomas A. Edison says there are seven fat years just ahead, and while not all of the forecasters reach so far into the future, there is a great deal of optimism all along the line and it is natural that this should be so. There must be production somewhere to offset the mighty destruction that is going on in so large a part of the world.

A picture of Carrie Nation is to be placed in Memorial Hall at Topeka, Kan., together with the hatchet used by her in her notorious saloon smashing crusade a few years ago. If such a career as hers is to be honored by any state it is fitting that it be done by one in which no drinker or cigaret smoker can obtain a place on the state payrolls, provided Kansas can find or make a law to keep them off.

The United States has taken at least one definite step with regard to the Mexican troubles. The border line has been designated as a place that must not be crossed by bandits except at their peril, and sufficient troops are on the ground to enforce the order. This is as it should be. The "greasers" should and must do their fighting on their own ground or take the consequences.

In view of the slaughter in the Old World and the agitation for preparations for war in this country, former Governor John A. Dix of New York thinks it about time that human life should be taken into account in the scheme of conversation. However, as Mr. Dix says, "human life is undoubtedly the cheapest thing which nations have to guard."

Again it is announced that the foot and mouth disease has been practically stamped out, and it is to be hoped the authorities are right this time. In its resistance to suppression the disease resembles the troubles in Mexico.

In Chicago Monday many people were wearing their winter overcoats and furs. If weather vagaries can make a season memorable the summer of 1915 will not soon be forgotten.

CURRENT OPINION

Except in Case of Dire Extremity, America Should Avoid War.

In my judgment, there is no consideration which does not demand our abstention from participation in this present war, except that of some dire extremity.

Tact, patience and skill should and will be able to guide us safely through these critical, even crucial times.

Now, if ever, the quality of solidarity in American citizenship should be conspicuous.

When, if ever, war becomes a necessity upon an issue thoroughly understood and approved by the people in order to keep secure our national rights, independence or honor, we will face it with undivided loyalty and patriotism, consciously prepared to meet its well nigh infinite cost in treasure and to sacrifice upon the altar of our national welfare the lives of our sturdiest and best sons.—By Philander C. Knox, Former Secretary of State.

GERMANS CAPTURE OUTER LINE

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Troops have captured the outer line of forts defending Grodno, the general staff reported today. Czarnobyl, a fortified town on the Vilna-Grodno railway has been taken by storm. This cuts off the retreat of the Russians left to defend Grodno when the main Russian armies retreated.

It is believed here that Grodno will be in German hands by tonight, giving them complete possession of every fortress on the first and second line of Russian defense and making their victory complete. Field Marshal von Mackensen has won another victory, rolling back the Russians and crossing the entire front in the Mactchewicz section. In the southeastern theatre the Germans took 1,000 prisoners on Wednesday. For the first time in many days the official report claims successes in the west, stating that the trenches lost by the Germans from August 18 to August 23 have been recaptured. The Germans are now in possession again of the Lingelkap-Burienkops line. In the battles that occurred Wednesday including the conflict at Grodno, Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army captured 3,700.

SAVE CARPENTER FROM BEACH MOB

Alleged Manchester Detective Causes Excitement at York.

As the result of a riot in front of Holland's bowling alley at York beach on Tuesday evening, when a crowd strove to get possession of R. B. Carpenter, who claims to be a police detective of Manchester, N. H., Raymond Avery, a local barber, Arthur Antiga and Nicholas Lettice were arrested Wednesday before Justice R. W. Hawkes on charges of inciting a riot. They were held in bail of $100 for their appearance Friday morning on the same charges.

Carpenter, it appears, came here to work on the case of a diamond theft. Mrs. Harry Casey, also said to be of Manchester, N. H., having been robbed of a diamond on August 11. Considerable offense was caused by Carpenter's attempts to place the guilt on Antiga. This objection spread rapidly and a scene of great excitement was enacted at Holland's alley.

Had it not been for the heroic efforts of Constable Grant Bull, Deputy Sheriff H. S. Woodward, and Police Officer William Parsons, it is believed Carpenter, for whom the mob of men was clamoring, would have fared badly in their hands.

Carpenter stated before leaving the

PEOPLES' OPINION

He Does Not Blame Pipemen

I have followed with interest the different rumors in which our local Veteran Firemen have participated. I was present at Marblehead play, and watched closely the manner in which our boys manned the brakes. The blame for the poor showing, according to report was placed on the pipemen. I feel that this was not the trouble. I noticed the vigor with which the pumps were worked, and the care with which the stream was directed, and have come to the conclusion that the real cause is that the pumps are driven too hard owing to the enthusiasm of the crew, and that instead of drawing a solid body of water through the suction, much air is also pulled in, lifting the water and causing a vaporizing stream which is an ability on the part of the two (in my opinion) experienced and earnest pipemen could overcome.

I would suggest that at the next play, an air chamber be attached to the suction hose. A suggestion in which all hydraulic engineers will agree. I feel that this suggestion will meet with the approval of the experts and that it will be the means of placing our local veteran company in the front ranks of all competing tubs.

Mr. Storekeeper, when the manufacturer advertises a standard product in the newspapers, say "I SELL IT!" Say it by putting the newspaper advertised goods in your window. "A LITTLE GIRL'S DREAM OF STORYLAND"

Presented at Kittery Under Auspices of York Rebekah Lodge.

A very pleasing entertainment was given on Wednesday evening at Wentworth Hall, Kittery, under the auspices of the entertainment committee of York Rebekah Lodge. The attendance was large, the hall being filled to capacity, and the program was one hard to equal.

The chief feature of the evening was the little play entitled "A Little Girl's Dream of Storyland," which was enacted by children. This made a big hit and every one of the actors did remarkably well. Robert Randolph as "George Porgie," and Seldon Baker as "Humpty Dumpty," perhaps created the most laughter by their funny antics, and kept the audience in a continuous uproar.

Miss Mary Lea Smith as a gypsy maid in full costume, beautifully rendered "The Gypsy Trail." She was heartily cheered and responded graciously with "Little Miss Mary." Her character make-up was indeed fine and she has a remarkably sweet and melodious voice, being clear and strong. Her song was one of the features of the evening.

Mrs. Adelaide Craig very ably rendered a vocal solo, "A Perfect Day," which was received with great applause. Miss Frances Upham's readings scored another big hit and greatly pleased the audience.

Miss Gwendoline Woods and Master Watson Dares of Portsmouth very prettily executed a Brazilian polka dance, and Miss Zyltha Woods gave a very clever toe dance, which was greeted with hearty applause. Miss Mildred and Master John Smart closed the program with their fishing song, in costume, which was very prettily done.

Miss Florence Sherman of Boston and Miss Marion Morrow of Kittery were the able accompanists of the evening, and Master Howard Paul assisted them with the violin.

The production of the little play represented much work on the part of Mrs. Charles E. Woods who arranged the play and directed the production of it. The following was the program:

Piano solo—Ruth Young Swedish Folk Lore Dance.
Misses Mildred and Eleanor Woods, Caroline and Elizabeth Cutts, Maybly and Ellen Standish, Anna May Culbertson, Sadie Dowden.
Piano solo—Alfred Tobey Reading—Frances Upham Brazilian Polka.
Miss Gwendoline Woods and Master Watson Dares.

CHAUFFEUR SAYS DOCTOR WAS LED INTO AMBUSH

Auto Driver Confesses to the Murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr of Providence and Lays Responsibility of Crime on a Discharged Employee.

Providence, Sept. 1.—Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, and his secretary, Miss Emily G. Burger, who was shot last night during an automobile ride as a result of which the physician died today, were led into an ambush according to a statement by the police tonight.

The announcement was based upon a story alleged to have been told by George W. Heals, the negro chauffeur who drove the car of Doctor Mohr last night. The chauffeur is said to have laid the responsibility of the plot upon a discharged employ of Dr. Mohr. This man Heals, is alleged to have told the police, made arrangements with him to stall the automobile at a certain place and share in the proceeds of a robbery, which the other claimed to be the object of the ambush.

Heals is said to have actually insisted tonight that he saw no one when the shots were fired into the machine, while it was stopped at a dark spot on the Nayatt road in Barrington, which he named as the place selected for the suggested hold-up. On the strength of the statements attributed to the chauffeur, the police tonight detained Victor Brown, who was employed on the Mohr estate at Newport as a hostler three weeks ago. They questioned him until a late hour.

Meanwhile the authorities were also investigating the story of Florence Ormsby, a maid in the physician's office. She claimed, according to the police, to have received for several days, warnings in person and by telephone from a woman that if she went in Doctor Mohr's automobile to Newport she would be in danger of getting shot.

Police officials also looked up matters in connection with Doctor Mohr's recent appearances in court, when he figured in a suit for divorce by his wife, and a counter suit which he brought, a charge of assault brought against him by a domestic in his household on which he was found not guilty and a charge of recklessly driving his automobile, on which he was found guilty.

vegetables was held in connection with the entertainment. A good sized sum was realized and the affair was a big success in every way.

NAVY'S LARGEST BATTLESHIP TO MAKE TRIAL TRIP

Within a few weeks Uncle Sam's much discussed navy will be increased by one of the most powerful fighting machines afloat, the giant battleship Nevada, now practically completed at the Fore River shipyards at Quincy and which is expected to have her first trial trip October 18.

The Nevada is 500 tons larger than the New York and the last Texas, the two largest U. S. battleships in commission, and challenges comparison with any afloat.

JERE SHAW IS RETIRED AFTER LONG SERVICE

Had Been an Operator in the Cable Service Since 1874.

Jere Shaw, the veteran operator of the Direct Cable Company who has hosts of friends in this city on Tuesday was retired on a pension after upwards of forty years' service with the Direct Cable Company and the Western Union Company.

Mr. Shaw first came to the cable station at Rye Beach from his home in England in 1874, having signed an agreement with the Direct Cable Company to enter its foreign service. He was among the pioneer operators at this station.

MRS. COWLES GRANTED ABSOLUTE DIVORCE

Will Take Residence Here on Saturday When Children Commence Their First Six Months'
Stay with Father.

Mrs. Florence J. Cowles was granted an absolute divorce from her husband, Dr. Edward S. Cowles, in the Superior Court by Chief Justice Robert J. Pike yesterday afternoon. The two little Cowles children, Mary Hayward, 5, and Harriet Virginia, 4, will be under the joint guardianship of both Doctor and Mrs. Cowles; to spend six months of the year alternately at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Cowles, the parent with whom the children are not living to be allowed to visit them as often as once a week.

The demand for alimony on the part of Mrs. Cowles from the Doctor was withdrawn and the amended bills were also withdrawn. Mrs. Cowles won her point regarding the custody of the children as Dr. Cowles agreed to the "ultimatum" only a few moments before the case was heard.

The decree was handed down by Judge Pike in the late afternoon after hearing certain testimony which was not contested by Mr. Cowles, is as follows:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE
Rockingham ss. Superior Court
April Court 1915

Florence J. Cowles v. Edward S. Cowles
This case having come on to be heard at this term and having heard the parties and their proofs, it is ordered, adjudged and decreed.

(1.) That the said Florence J. Cowles be divorced from the bonds of matrimony existing between herself and the said Edward S. Cowles upon the ground that the said Edward S. Cowles has so treated her as seriously to injure her health. By amendment all charges of infidelity were withdrawn.

(2.) The custody and education of the minor children is committed to the said Edward S. Cowles and Florence J. Cowles jointly. The said custody shall be subject to the following arrangement, which has been agreed to by the parties and approved by the Court: The children are at once to be given into the possession of Edward S. Cowles, he to retain such possession for six months' period after which time they shall be given into the possession of Florence J. Cowles for a like period and so alternating by six months' periods for three years, at the end of which three years' periods upon the petition of either party, a further order of the Court will be made respecting the custody of the children.

During the possession of the children by either party the other party shall have the right to see and have the temporary possession of the children for at least one day in each week, and as much more as may be reasonable under the circumstances. One party is to have the children Thanksgiving and the other party upon Christmas as they may agree. The children are to be educated by a governess, to be employed and paid by the said Edward S. Cowles. If, however, Florence J. Cowles desires to employ a different governess while the children are in her possession, she may do so upon condition that she pay all wages and expenses of the governess so employed by her. While the children are with Mrs. Cowles, they shall remain in the state of Massachusetts, and while with Edward S. Cowles, they shall remain in the state of New Hampshire. Neither party may have the right to take them to either of the states named, but to no other state to reside without permission of the Court. It is the intention of the Court that jurisdiction of the parties as well of the children is retained by this Court, and this order in any of its particulars may be modified at any time upon petition for good cause shown.

Late last evening Col. Bartlett gave out the statement regarding the settlement of the case and the custody of the children. He also stated that Mrs. Cowles would go to Boston and return on Saturday, bringing little Mary and Harriet with her. The little girls will immediately be turned over to the care of Dr. Cowles and will remain in his charge until six months have passed. The Doctor has not seen either of his children since last fall when Mrs. Cowles took them to Boston to live with her at her mother's home in Brookline.

Col. Bartlett's Statement:

Mrs. Cowles has engaged rooms at the Sinclair Inn for the six months during which her children will be in Portsmouth, and she will take up her permanent legal residence in this city. The decree of Judge Pike made by agreement of the parties is silent on the question of allowing Dr. Cowles to keep insane people in the house on Middle street where the children may be for six months. Col. Bartlett said he did not, neither did Mrs. Cowles, agree that the children could be kept with insane people. On this point Dr. Cowles is left to his honor. If he does attempt to keep insane people in his home with the children, Mrs. Cowles will be here to protest and take immediate legal steps to prevent the same. The decree provides that it may be modified any time by the court for a good cause, and Mrs. Cowles and her counsel believe that keeping the little girls in a tenement with insane people would be a good cause for her to bring the matter again to the court's attention.

The Trial

Chief Justice Robert J. Pike took his position on the bench at just 2:00 o'clock and requested Sheriff Spinnery to announce to the members of the court that the case was open. Judge Guptill, chief of counsel for Mrs. Cowles, requested permission to withdraw the amended bills for divorce and to submit the original motion as it was more specific. The bill charged Dr. Cowles with conduct injurious to health and endangering the mind, but that it may be allowed to be further amended to make it more specific. This was allowed by the court.

Judge Guptill then read the bill which maintained that Dr. Cowles had compelled Mrs. Cowles to act as business manager of the sanatorium causing her to work for a matter of sixteen hours a day and that the work broke her down physically and mentally. The bill further charged that Mrs. Cowles had repeatedly requested that the Doctor engage another house where she could give more time to him and the children "and make a home." This the doctor refused to do, the bill contended.

After the reading of the bill, Mrs. Cowles took the stand. She acted in a perfectly calm manner after being sworn in by Clerk Knight and answered Judge Guptill's questions promptly. Her voice was very low at times and Judge Pike asked that she speak a little louder. She told of her marriage and the conditions that had surrounded her life since she came to this city and the effect on her nervous system due to the fact that she was associated for sixteen hours a day with the patients at the Cowles sanatorium. When she left Portsmouth in December for her mother's home she was a nervous wreck and at times became hysterical. She stated she had been under the care of a physician continually since that time, Dr. Brown and Osmond of Boston. She appealed to Dr. Cowles before leaving to take a smaller house, which they could occupy and she give more time to their children, but he refused to consider her request. The constant strain of working sixteen hours a day compelled her to give up work. She had full control of Mr. Cowles' business, being in charge of all the nurses in the sanatorium, the care of the home, and did all of the buying of the provisions in Boston, as well as other duties.

Mrs. Harry J. Jaquith, her mother, was the next witness. Mrs. Jaquith said that she visited the home of her daughter many times since she took up her residence here and she considered her a dutiful wife and mother and that she was in a state of collapse when she came home in December and was constantly under the care of a physician.

Dr. G. M. Brown of Boston stated he had treated Mrs. Cowles for some ailment of the jaw that was caused by a severe mental strain and overwork. Court took a recess at 2:30 until 3 o'clock to await the arrival of Dr. Osborne. The case was resumed as soon as Dr. Osmond arrived. He took the stand at once and testified first as to his education. His testimony showed that he was called to see Mrs. Cowles regarding some trouble with her right knee. To questions put by Counsel Guptill, Dr. Osmond stated that he came to the conclusion that the trouble was caused by mental strain, anxiety and tension, due to worry and over work. He said that he had been in Paris for three months working in the hospitals there and that since his return to this country he had seen Mrs. Cowles on one or two occasions. He stated that her condition had not improved. He also stated that he learned part of her story regarding her life in the sanatorium at Portsmouth and was convinced that her trouble could be traced directly to these conditions. He was excused from further testimony after counsel for Dr. Cowles answered in the negative to Judge Pike's question if they cared to cross examine the witness.

Dr. Cowles' counsel was given the right to cross examine each of the witnesses as they finished their direct testimony, but there was no cross examination.

Judge Guptill then stated that his case was completed.

Judge Pike Caused Str

After Mr. Guptill told the court that his case was rested Judge Pike asked if the Dr. Cowles were ready to present their bill. Counsel replied, "Not at this time."

Judge Pike threw a bomb into the Cowles' camp by stating that "This is the time to present their bill for action, otherwise the bill would be thrown out of court." The several members of the Doctor's counsel gathered for a hasty conference in the court room and the whisperings continued for several moments. All the attorneys were more or less bothered by this ruling of the court but it was announced after a short time that the bill for a cross bill was withdrawn.

Judge Pike then announced that the case was closed and that the attorneys were to meet him in his chamber while he considered the evidence submitted.

Tires 30x3½ Also 30x3 With Three More Extras

Note that the Goodyear has for years held the leading place. It has proved its supremacy to hundreds of thousands. No other tire has ever won so many users.

Even the 30x3 size is a four-ply tire. And the All-Weather tread on it is made double-thick.

Added Size

This year we've increased our small-tire size. We have added 20 per cent to the air capacity—the factor which carries the load.

We have added 30 per cent to the side-wall rubber—just above the bead. That's where constant flexing breaks so many tires. And we've made new molds because a new design has shown increased endurance.

$317,000 Extra

These three new extras will this year cost us $317,000. They will save our users ten times that or more.

No like capacity was ever before embodied in a small-size tire. Yet this year we made another big price reduction.

Get these new extras when you next buy tires. See for yourself what they add to your mileage. Don't take smaller, thinner tires when Goodyears offer these things.

And got ready his decision. The room quickly emptied of spectators, only a handful remaining. At about 4:30 the decree was announced and the Cowles case was closed.

Neither of the contestants was present during the wait for the decision to be handed down, both having left the courtroom, most of their witnesses going with them.

The morning session was a repetition of the first two days of the case. Attorneys continually went in and out of the chambers where Dr. Cowles was considering the question of submitting the "ultimatum" of his wife regarding the custody of the children. But this suspense lasted but a short time. At 10:30 Clerk Knight came into the court and announced that the case would go on trial at 2:00 o'clock and a recess would be taken until that time owing to the absence of an important witness who was delayed by missing railroad connections.

40,000 MACHINE GUNS IN POSITION

London, Sept. 2.—From a well informed source it is learned that military men estimate there are 40,000 German machine guns in position on the Western front alone. This means more than one machine gun for every forty men, putting the German strength at 1,500,000 or one for every 25 yards of front.

GREAT SNEEZE FEST STARTS AT BETHLEHEM

Bethlehem, N. H., Sept. 2.—The famous annual convention of the United States Hay Fever Association started here today to an orchestral accompaniment of "a-choo's" in several hundred tones of voice.

The Rev. Guy Roberts, the president, led the deliberations. He is not a sneezer and was elected for this reason, as the members thought the preceding president took too much time for his own personal squawks in the midst of meetings.

This is the 42d annual gathering of the hay fever pestered. Many of the other members spoke with regret today on the death since the last meeting of Richard Muckle a resident of Philadelphia, Pa., at the age of 90 years. He sneezed 76 consecutive years, being president of this association from 1878 to 1883.

This evening Dr. R. Kendrick Smith of Boston will address the delegates on the newly discovered osteopathic method of treating hay fever, by manipulating the nose and throat with the fingers.

U-BOAT SHELLS BOSTON VESSEL, WAR CRAFT IDLE

Although two English torpedo boat destroyers were within three miles of her, the American square rigged sailing vessel Ruth Stark was fired on twice by a German submarine off Cape Clear, according to a story told by the Ruth Stark's commander, Capt. J. E.
Rawding. The Ruth Stark arrived in Boston harbor yesterday.

"It was on Aug. 3, when we were homeward bound from Liverpool, that we were fired on by the German," said Capt. Rawding. "We were under full sail when the first shot was fired. I ordered the crew to take off sail and they were doing so when the U-boat sent another shell at us. Two English destroyers were near enough to attack
the submarine, but they stood off."

"The U-boat came under our stern and after her commander had satisfied himself as to our nationality and destination, he allowed us to go unmolested."

"The Ruth Stark sailed from Boston
for England with a cargo of lumber on May 12. She was held up at Liverpool seven weeks by dock congestion. On the return voyage 31 days were consumed the vessel encountering foggy weather continually.

From the popular point of view the affair was a triumph. It was in many respects one of the biggest openings

all dressed up in glad apparel, appears and for the time being it is all off with Ambition. Certainly Youth will go with Pleasure, and she leads him to the primrose path, which is just a New York cabaret restaurant.

There Youth gets introduced to Excitement, Song, Sport, Fashion, Wealth, Style, Frivolity, Deceit, Slander, Passion, Intoxication and a whole cluster of giddy creatures.

They dance and sing and Youth drinks too much. This scene is very spirited.

Youth, having thrown his money away goes with Experience to a gilded gambling house, where a roulette game is under full swing and a typical throne of gamblers hover about. Here he loses all his money and stopping a lot of friends in the street of Disillusion, only to be turned down, we next find him as a waiter in a slum cafe.

This scene, called The House of Last Resort, is far the best in the play. It is gripping, touching and intense. We meet Frailty, a pathetic little thing, who steals Wealth's pocketbook when he turns aside from the strolling party to kiss her, so that Youth may have a fresh start.

Youth and Frailty are discovered by the police and the pocketbook is restored to Wealth intact. Youth slips down the ladder. He runs from Poverty, a hideous creature, into a den of cocaine sniffers, and under the influence of his first sniff joins crime in a job. But passing through the street of Forgotten Days his better nature awakens. He turns away from Crime and Vice, guided by Experience, returns to Love and Hope to make a fresh start.

most refined and generally pleasing productions of musical comedy Boston has had in several seasons. The comedy is bright and refreshingly wholesome and the music is uncommonly lunatic.

Lawrence Grossmith, as the untal-ent and clumsy young Englishman, display artistic skill in his portrayal of the principal role. His delicate, clever method of getting his humor across the footlights is delightful and well worth seeing. Adele Rowland in the leading feminine part of Tony Miller, the Winter Garden prima donna, is exceptionally attractive. Maude Odell, Charles Judels, Tom Graves, Carl Lyle, Nigel Barrie and George Lydecker are all worthy of praise.

One of the chief hits of the production is the dancing done by Helen Clarke and Quentin Tod. They are quite the last word in graceful, modern dancing. For the benefit of the out of town theatregoers the management of the Wilbur Theatre would like to make mention that the performance is over at 10.10 p. m.

MODERN THEATRE.

Theda Bara, one of the most popular screen favorites, will make her appearance at the Modern Theatre, Boston, in a wonderful photo-adaptation of Adolphe D'Ennery's immortal drama
"The Two Orphans." The production is made by the famous Fox Film studio, who has surrounded the star with a host of notable movie actors headed by Jean Sorenson and William B. Shay.
The most elaborate and massive sets are used in the production. The scene in the streets of Paris, showing the arrival of the coach with the two orphans, is one of the most expensive ever used. As a whole the picture is one of the most interesting yet staged by this highly reputable producing firm and is well worth seeing. The remainder of the program includes several short photo-plays, some high class vaudeville and the usual organ recital.
The regular Sunday night concerts offer a program of unsurpassable quality entertainment. The Modern Theatre emphasizes the quality of its entertainment rather than its quantity.

"HOW I BROKE INTO PRINT"
Richard Harding Davis Tells of His Writing While at College.

Richard Harding Davis is one of those fortunate men whose short stories can always command a thousand dollars and over. How he "broke into print" is an interesting little history.

"It was while at Lehigh University,"
he says, "that I earned my first sum for writing. It was a description of a cane rush at the university, and I sent it to a local paper. It was published, and a few days later I received a check for the large sum of $1.15. I have received larger checks since then,
but the biggest of them never gave me
the thrill that that one did.

Just as soon as I cashed that check
I sallied out to buy 'something' with it—I had no idea what—and in my search I found two very nice looking candlesticks which, I think, were about the price of the story I had sold. I bought them. They were made of brass and seemed very solid and handsome.
One I sent to my mother and the other
I kept for myself. They are still in existence, I believe, a shining witness to the first fracture I made in my youthful endeavor to 'break into print.'—

PAPER MONEY ISSUE PLANNED TO AID RUSSIA

Petrograd, Sept. 1.—The finance committee of the Duma has presented a bill extending the rights of the state bank to issue paper money. The committee report discussed the entire problem of meeting war expenses, stating that the sums needed were so large that all possible sources of revenue must be used—taxation, internal credit operations, an issue of paper money and foreign loans.

"For 1915" the report stated, "the estimated war expenses are 7,212,000,- 000 roubles ($3,621,000,000) and other expenses 2,817,000,000 roubles, making a total of more than 10,000,000,000 roubles.

Shy 3,000,000,000 Roubles.
"The revenue from ordinary receipts
is estimated at 2,796,000,000 roubles, while credit operations up to the present time have yielded 4,151,000,000
roubles, leaving more than 3,000,000,000
roubles yet to be provided.

"The government must prepare the ground for another important loan in foreign markets to pay for material purchased abroad, but in view of our agreement with our allies there is no doubt of our success. In the whole financial history of Russia there never has been a moment's delay in paying creditors."

Ample Gold Reserves.
Regarding the proposed development of the issue of paper money, the report said:

"Compared with other nations, Russia holds the greatest cover in gold for her paper money, with the possible exception of Great Britain."

Minister of Finance Bank, supporting the report of the committee, said that in spite of exploitation of internal credit to a degree hitherto unprecedented, amounting to a total of more than 3,000,000,000 roubles, Russia possesses immense reserves of savings, of which the government intends soon to make use. The government is increasing the number of savings banks, simplifying and facilitating their use by the people.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Answering
German charges that Belgium "fostered British military plans" before war broke out, "thus herself violating her neutrality," the Belgian legation here issued a statement today declaring:

"The (German) chancellor bases his accusations against Belgium of having violated her neutrality on the fact that the (Belgian and British) military attaches mentioned the possibility of military operations in case Germany attacked Belgium.

"With equal justice a murderer could plead that his victim was justly put to death because friends of his had been heard talking to him of coming to his help in case he was assaulted."

There is nothing
so good for chil-

Cadum Ointment.

It is perfectly safe to apply to the tender skin of infants suffering from tetter, rashes, eczema, chafings, and similar troubles that afflict the little ones, all of which, if not carefully treated, are apt to become chronic and mar a baby's beauty. Instant relief is felt as soon as Cadum Ointment is applied. The itching is stopped at once, and so soothing and healing is the effect of this new compound that infants resume natural sleep immediately. Cadum is good for any skin trouble in adults as well as children.

An old fashioned stage coach, drawn by four mules, was seen on the streets on Wednesday advertising the local fair. Late in the afternoon an automobile that had come up Market street collided with one of the leaders and there was a mix-up on Market square for a few minutes.

The sudden ending of the Cowles' divorce proceedings was a disappointment to some, but no doubt it was a great relief to some others in this city who were summoned as witnesses. It is also stated on good authority that some of the important witnesses were in hiding in nearby states, one in particular being under pay at Ipswich, Mass.
